Fraternities & Sororities

SORORITIES

Alpha Epsilon Phi – aepi.org

AEPi considers itself a Jewish sorority, but not a religious organization. Membership is open to all women, regardless of religion, who honor, respect and appreciate AEPi's Jewish identity and are comfortable in a culturally Jewish environment. The mission of Alpha Epsilon Phi is to inspire and support exemplary women dedicated to friendship and a lifelong commitment to Alpha Epsilon Phi while building on the vision of Jewish founders.

Sigma Delta Tau - sigmadeltatau.org

The mission of this historically Jewish sorority is to enrich the college experience of women of similar ideals, to build lasting friendships, and to foster personal growth. They encourage each member to reach her fullest potential by providing intellectual, philanthropic, leadership and social opportunities within a framework of mutual respect and high ethical standards.

FRATERNITIES:

Alpha Epsilon Pi • aepi.org

AEPi is a Jewish fraternity, though it is non-discriminatory and open to all who are willing to espouse its purpose and values. AEPi develops leadership for the future of the American Jewish community. They maintain the integrity of their purpose by strengthening their ties to the Jewish community and serving as a link between high school and career.

Sigma Alpha Mu • sam.org

Sigma Alpha Mu's Mission as a Jewish fraternity is to foster the development of collegiate men and alumni by instilling strong fraternal values, offering social and service opportunities, encouraging academic excellence and teaching leadership skills.

Tau Epsilon Phi • tep.org

The historically Jewish organization's creed asserts its governing ideals as "friendship, chivalry, service." TEP attracts and accepts brothers of all religions and ethnicities who agree to be bound by these ideals.

Zeta Beta • tau-zbt.org

Founded in 1898 as the Nation's first Jewish Fraternity, ZBT aims to preserve and cultivate its relationships within the Jewish Community. ZBT recruits and initiates men of good character, regardless of religion, race or creed.

Advocacy Groups

American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC) on Campus • aipac.org/connect/student

AIPAC believes the key to securing the US-Israel alliance in the future is to educate student leaders today. Working with high school, undergraduate, and graduate students, as well as young professionals, AIPAC's training programs teach students how to strengthen the US-Israel relationship through political involvement.

Challah For Hunger • challahforhunger.org

Challah for Hunger brings people together to bake and sell challah to raise money and awareness for social justice. Participants make a difference in the world by investing in the next generation of entrepreneurs, social activists, and philanthropists.
