

ACCESS GRANT

Interpreter Fund

Policy

- For approved Jewish community events in Baltimore: JADE pays $50, 1 hour minimum
- For a series (more than 2 sessions): JADE pays half of each session, i.e. $25 an hour, up to 12 sessions a year. The sponsoring organization pays the other half.
- For educational events at local Jewish schools: JADE pays $45 an hour, 1 hour minimum.
- Fees get rounded up to the nearest half hour. Ex: 1 hour and 15 minute job gets paid 1 ½ hour rate.
- JADE interpreters do not charge for local travel expenses or time.
- It is the deaf or hard of hearing client's responsibility to request the interpreter, figure out who will pay for the services and then hire the interpreter.
- If the deaf or hard of hearing client does not show up, the client pays the interpreter.

All events must be approved by Yael Zelinger or Rachel Turniansky

Captioning Fund Policy

- Anyone making a video and would like to add captions may apply for the Captioning Grant.
- The video must
 - have Jewish content
 - be available for some type of public consumption, paid or free
 - be approved by Yael Zelinger or Rachel Turniansky
- We request that credit be given to the Macks Center for Jewish Education's JADE ACCESS GRANT on the video itself.
- We request a copy of the captioned video for our resource library.
- The grant is paid directly to the vendor ex: transcriptionist, captioning business or gift card vendor for volunteer recognition
